

Fear of rejection: Self-employed workers aren't applying for a mortgage because they think they will be rejected

34% of self-employed individuals have never applied for a mortgage, according to our latest research.

Concerningly, many have not even tried for a mortgage because of the assumption they would be rejected as a self-employed individual. Indeed, the research found that 30% said they've never applied for one because they didn't think they would be approved. In addition to this, 26% said they heard it's more challenging for self-employed people to get a mortgage.

You can read our full article here: <a href="https://themortgagelender.com/content-hub/news-articles/fear-of-rejection-self-employed-workers-aren-t-applying-for-a-mortgage-because-they-think-they-will-be-be-be-ause-they-think-they-will-be-be-be-ause-they-think-they-will-be-be-be-ause-they-think-they-will-be-be-be-ause-they-think-they-will-be-ause-they-think-they-will-be-ause-they-they-will-be-ause-they-they-will-be-ause-they-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will-be-ause-they-will

rejected?utm_source=Fear+of+rejection&utm_medium=Weekly+content&utm_campaign=Weekly+content&utm_id=National+Accounts