

LV= have launched their second Reaching Resilience report which explores what the working population would fall back on if they couldn't work. Often this plan B isn't sustainable compared to having protection in place. The report is packed with insights to help with positioning protection for more impactful conversations.

Read it here

Reaching Resilience

Research exploring financial resilience and the role of protection

Read our latest report >

For financial adviser use only

