

New income protection case study from The Exeter: Harvey's Story

“ Income protection has been an absolute godsend. I would recommend that anybody get an income protection policy. ”

Harvey

During a visit to the eye hospital for an itchy eye Harvey was referred to a neuro ophthalmologist and after a consultation and MRI, Harvey was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis.

Harvey had an income protection policy with us which has given him access to valuable financial support since being unable to work due to MS.

Read Harvey's story to find out how income protection has helped him and his family or download the PDF version here.