

Income Protection Awareness Week (IPAW)

This Income Protection Action Week, we're running a series of 30-minute daily webinars designed to help you build confidence in income protection conversations. Throughout the week, we'll explore how income protection can support clients' financial resilience, share practical ways to engage different client types, address common objections and demonstrate how cover can complement wider financial planning. Each session qualifies for 30 minutes of structured CPD.

Register now

Money Talks podcast: Rethinking income protection

In our latest podcast, Paul Roberts from CIEExpert and Gregor Sked, Senior Protection Technical Manager at Royal London, discuss key insights from Critical Thinking 2026. They explore what's driving the income protection 'understanding gap', how changing working patterns and life stages are shaping client needs, and the challenges of advising clients with non-traditional or variable incomes. Listen to discover practical ways to reframe income protection conversations, improve client understanding and engagement, and deliver more relevant protection recommendations.

Listen now

Our new CPD hub

Finding relevant CPD is now easier. Our refreshed CPD hub brings together webinars, podcasts and on-demand content in one place, making it simple to explore learning by topic or date. Whether you're looking to deepen your technical knowledge, stay up-to-date with industry developments or earn some CPD hours, you'll find a range of resources to support your ongoing development.

Explore the CPD hub