

Now live: Updated Protection Platform journey

Underwriting Release Update

Following an extensive platform review, we're delighted to announce that we've launched an updated version of our Protection Platform application journey

What did the review involve?

- Over the last 18 months, we've conducted a review of the Protection Platform application journey
- Our review has been carried out in close collaboration with all Protection Platform insurer partners and their reinsurers, ensuring the updated version meets the needs of all stakeholders.

What's changed?

- A range of questions have been refined across the application to make the journey clearer and easier for customers to understand.
- The application flow and structure have been improved with new and updated sections that group related questions together, with some questions now repositioned into more appropriate sections.

What this means for advisers?

- More accurate disclosures
- Update went live on Monday 10 August
- No action is required. The updated journey will be available automatically.

View Resources

Available now

Live on the Protection Platform. Use UnderwriteMe's platform to make protection processes simpler, faster and easier. From improving application journeys to helping you place business more efficiently, our aim is to give you more time to spend with your clients.

